LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THIRTY FOR THE PRICE OF 24?

Dear Stripper Magazine:

I'm writing this letter on behalf of many dancers in the Ontario area. It seems some agents and a couple of club owners have taken it upon themselves to demand thirty shows for the price of twenty-four. Their argument being, they want more for their money. I would like to address the situation with a few points.

We all realize that times are hard and money is tight. What we don't understand is why after two years now, the clubs are still hiring very high priced American acts with significantly less entertainment quality compared to Canadian acts. Instead of asking more for your money, why not ask for your money's worth. We really need to support more Canadian acts. We can't just walk into the United States and get booked.

As soon as the recession began, we all had to take price cuts. The features started realizing that we have to make money by promoting ourselves more. As a result the club benefits from more in-house advertising and free give-aways to the audience. With the instigation of thirty shows not only will the feature be less energetic throughout the day, but there will be less give-aways to the crowd. With three night shows, the audience doesn't turn over that frequently, and you loose that anticipation or excitement because the shows are too close together.

The agents and club owners should take into consideration those features that invest in themselves to benefit the club. Many girls now have their own in-house promotion, whether it be table toppers or flyers, posters or calenders even videos to play in the club. These items cost us money everyday.

We all should come to some sort of compromise. Maybe instead of thirty shows, let's try twenty-six or seven. Put the extra shows on the weekend only. Another approach could be, as many features would prefer, eliminate the ever so boring lunch show (except for the few clubs that have good lunch crowds). The club could save money by running twenty-one shows, the extra shows again on the weekend, the dancer wouldn't have to compromise her price.

When a feature is forced to drop her price radically, the club loses out on the show itself due to the fact that a lot of shows that separate features from showgirls cost money.

For example, pyro-techs, props, giveaways and in-house promotion. We are all trying to up the level of entertainment quality in this business. Therefore, we all have to work together.

One more point. These same clubs feel that they deserve the best acts at ridiculously low prices. I'm sure that every Canadian act has run across this. We feel that it's wrong. It's only fair to work all the Toronto clubs at the same price, and give them their money's worth. I hope that this situation can be resolved with all parties being treated fairly.

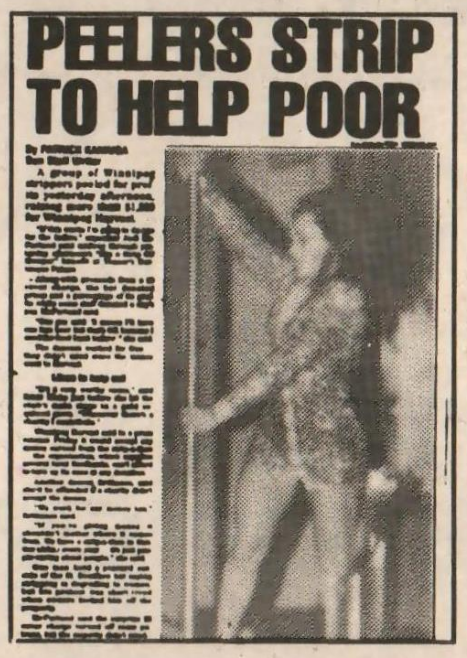
Signed,
A Concerned Feature

STRIPPING FOR CHARITY IN WINNIPEG!

Dear Stripper Magazine:

It all started about one and a half years ago while I was reading an article in STRIPPER Magazine that featured Melissa Wolfe. As I read about Melissa donating the proceeds of six shows to the Vancouver food bank, I hand a brainstorm. This is the story of how "Rip A Strip Off Hunger" was born.

Retired from a ten year career as an exotic dancer, I have volunteered at Winnipeg Harvest since 1987. Knowing, as I do, about the overwhelming problem of hunger and poverty in Winnipeg, I saw a virtually untapped source of dollars.



PEELERS STRIP TO HELP POOR

From there, I approached Dave Northcott (Winnipeg Harvest), Rick Irving (Superb Entertainment), and Sabino Tummillo (Chalet Hotel/Teasers).

Understandably, there was a lot of controversy surrounding "Rip A Strip" but I don't think that those receiving help care where the money comes from. Incidentally, our lone protestor was a government worker. Figures, eh!

In the end, it's results that count and we ended up giving the food bank almost $2,000.00 towards their cause.

In the future, I hope to organize a similar event—for ladies, at the Pink Panther (Continental).

Sincerely,
Judi McFarland

Amber Lynn And Friends Unite Adult Industry For AIDS

Amber, Victoria, and Robert Levy.

More than 500 people from the adult entertainment industry converged on September 2, 1992 at the Bel Age Hotel in West Hollywood, California in a benefit for the Youth Aids Foundation. The hotel's grand ballroom was decorated beautifully with flowers and balloons. The crowd was attired in equal splendor. All were on hand to raise money for the cause and to celebrate legendary film star Amber Lynn's 28th birthday.

MTV phenom Pauly Shore.

Among the distinguished guests were: Al Goldstein of Screw and Midnight Blue fame, Savannah, Ginger Lynn, Barbara Dare, Larry Flynt from Hustler Magazine, photographer Clive McLean, Jamie Summers, Charlie Frey from Features, Michael J. Peter, Gloria Leonard, Ron Jeremy, Rob Abner from Stripper Magazine, Frank Bane from Continental Agency, Amy Lynn, Theresa Presley, Lene Hefner, Steve Paled, John Scialpi, Seymour Kay from Goldfingers, Lois Ayres, Patricia Kennedy, Madison, Hyapatia and Bud Lee, Nina Hartley, Porsche Lynn, Suze Randall, publicist Bruce Lynn, Peter Nygard, Fred Lincoln, Patti Rhodes, Kevin Williamson, Tony Indovina from The Lee Network, comedian Buck Henry, Brad & Zee Hirst from Brad's Gold Club, Al Sokol from Al's Diamond Cabaret and so many other notables that the list could go on for several pages. The organizers of the extravaganza were: Amber Lynn, Victoria Paris - a close friend of Amber's, Suzi Gunn - Amber's production manager, and Michael Roche.

Said Suzi Gunn, " A lot of time, a lot of hard, hard work was put into the event. We really appreciate the support from our friends and colleagues."

In lieu of birthday gifts, Amber requested that people donate $75 each. The money raised ($30,000) was presented to the Youth Aids Foundation of Los Angeles. Representing the foundation was Robert Levy who gave his thanks. Amber chose to help this particular organization because she had heard that it was being forced to close its doors due to lack of funding. The funds will help to keep the foundation afloat.

throughout the evening, which kicked off at 8 p.m., were many performers. Two bands (Smash Alley and Body and Soul) performed. In addition, a group of all-star musicians jammed, included among them were Billy Sheehan of Mr. Big. The musical co-ordinator of the evening was singer Happenin' Harry.

Supplying the laughs were comedian Lenny Clark, Chi Chi LaRue and The Johnny Depp Clones.

The birthday festivities wrapped up at 2 a.m., but many participants went elsewhere to continue the party. Commented Suzi Gunn, "We were extremely satisfied with the evening. It was a beautiful party." Amber Lynn added, "I don't think I will ever forget the night of my 28th birthday."★★★

Earl Miller &

THE GREAT PET HUNT!

With the huge success of his Great Pet Hunt video, which features exotic dancers from across the U.S. and Canada, we asked Earl Miller to share his thoughts on the making of the video with us. Earl did us the honor of submitting the following guest editorial.

APPEARING IN THE VIDEO ARE:

Jenna Persaud
Vanity
Tasha & Tisha
Tina Mounce
Vanessa Young
Sonni Shea
Christine
Courtney Cleavage
Sara Norton
Melissa Wolf
Vanna Lace
Tera Heart
Shyla Fox
Leanna Chambers
Robin Brown
Dominique Simone
Jennifer Starr
Glorianne

As I write this my video The Great Pet Hunt - Part 1 is on the Billboard top ten best seller list for the fourth week in a row. It's right up there with the big boys like Silence Of The Lambs and Wayne's World. It is currently higher than any other Penthouse or Playboy tape. We always believed we were making a first rate show but had no idea it would be this successful.

Two years ago, I formed "Erotic Visions" Productions with video wizard Dan O'Dowd. Shortly thereafter, Dan said, "Earl, when you do your Penthouse Pet Searches, let's do a documentary on dancers." So the adventure began.

The five clubs, from coast to coast across North America, who participated in The Great Pet Hunt - Part 1, did so when the concept was only a dream. Their faith is now rewarded by being prominently identified in a best-selling program which is being distributed around the world by Penthouse Video. I can think of no better way of thanking them for their faith and vision. Raymond Poirier, The Cecil, Vancouver; Spiro Koumoudouros, The House Of Lancaster, Toronto; Nick Rizos, Caligula XXI, Dallas; John Jr. and Pat Trecapelli, The Million Dollar Saloon, Windsor; and Lamar Jeffcoat, The Goldrush, Atlanta.

The Great Pet Hunt - Part 1 presents nineteen of the most beautiful and talented dancers in the world. We had the truly difficult task of selecting from the hundreds who participated. You always wish you can showcase far more, but the limits of program time make the selection process unavoidable. The nineteen who won their much deserved place in the show are more than deserving of the recognition their appearance will bring them. They are stars in a best selling tape which will be sold around the world for years to come. We wish these fine entertainers all the success they deserve.

We are now lining up clubs to shoot Part II. The good news is that some girls we couldn't fit in Part I will be in Part II. The essential difference from Part I is that clubs who join us now will be participating in the sequel to a major hit video. It's an incredible win/win situation for all concerned. The presence of my official Penthouse Pet And Video Search at a club proves to be a powerful event in its own right drawing a full complement of performers and record numbers of customers. Besides the 19 girls who appear in the Video I'm also happy to say that I shot 17 girls for Penthouse Magazine. ★★★★★

MIRAGE

THE 5th GOLDFINGERS CLUB OPENS ON LONG ISLAND

By Debbie Brown

There were hour-long line-ups out front for three days in August as 1500 guests attended the grand opening festivities of Mirage - the newest club in the rapidly growing Goldfingers chain. The official name of club number five is Mystique of Mirage Presents the Girls of Goldfingers, but it is affectionately known as Mirage Goldfingers. It is located at 3930 Long Beach Road in Island Park on Long Island in New York. It is situated amid other mainstream night clubs, in a high-density, suburban, residential area and blends in with million dollar homes and is within a mile of the ocean.

The million dollar, upscale structure was officially opened on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 21, 22, 23 with invited guests arriving from 8 - 11 p.m., then open to the general public until 4 a.m. On hand were the four principals of Goldfingers International - the parent company of all Goldfingers affiliated clubs - John Scialpi, Charles Frey, Steve Paled (President) and Seymour Kay and the proud owners - Ron and Nicole Miscelli.

Also in attendance was the management team of John Rodgers and Tommy D. to insure a smooth running operation. Luminaries on hand included the infamous Robin Byrd, plus owners of about-to-open Goldfingers locations in Philadelphia; Stanford, Connecticut; Los Angeles; Minneapolis and Cleveland. Even officials from the local government showed up. According to John Scialpi, "A lot of the politicians were there. Where normally, they are in other communities, opposed, the whole community board was there and actually real appreciative because Goldfingers was opening versus some club which doesn't uphold the same standards of conduct and performance."

The honored guests in attendance were porn superstar Amber Lynn as well as JamieSummers and Amy Lynn (spokesmodel of Goldfingers) who toasted the new owners, greeted other guests and handed out T-shirts and other souvenirs. The club received coverage form almost ➤ every major newspaper in the N.Y. area. Celebrities included local TV talk show hosts, lead singers from various rock 'n' roll bands and sports figures (members of the N.Y. Mets baseball club and N.Y. Rangers hockey team).

Dancers at Mirage Goldfingers were from all over the U.S. and included members of the exclusive Girls of Goldfingers, including centerfolds from Atlanta, Miami, L.A., Tuscon, Dallas, Minneapolis and Orlando. There were more than 50 performers and they did choreographed routines throughout the evenings. Headlining for the opening was K. C. Williams superstar of porn and Penthouse centerfold, who performed four shows each night.

Looking back on the evening, Devin, who's been a Goldfingers Girl, for two years and has been dancing for five years, said, "The opening was a lot of fun. The customers were great. The club is beautiful. I made a lot of money!" Charlie Frey, one of the principals, stated, "Mirage is a welcome new jewel to the Goldfingers kingdom of clubs. Mirage is located in a great area. It's stunning design makes us feel very good about presenting some of our finest entertainers." Certainly Mirage keeps up the Goldfingers well-deserved reputation for awesome girls, elegant atmosphere with plenty of fun and frolic for everyone.

The interior of the club has cranberry-colored wallpaper, plush art-deco carpeting, elegant light fixtures, hand-etched glass partitions, marble top tables and seating for 300. The 7500 square foot club also boasts a spectacular moon-shaped bar and three VIP areas. There are five stages including a main stage with a runway and a state-of-the-art sound and lighting system.

A complimentary gourmet buffet with eight hot and cold items is served from Monday to Friday between 4 and 7 p.m. A cover charge of $5 and up, plus a dress code of jackets preferred, attracts a predominantly white collar clientele. For dancers there is a modern dressing room complete with a hair dresser and make-up artist. Each week there is a new feature and more than 50 house dancers. The club operates between 4 p.m. and 4 a.m. seven days a week.

Says John Scialpi, "Mirage is another success story in the developing history of the adult entertainment wave of the future - Goldfingers." He added, "By this time next year, we expect somewhere in the vicinity of about 25 clubs to be open." ★★★

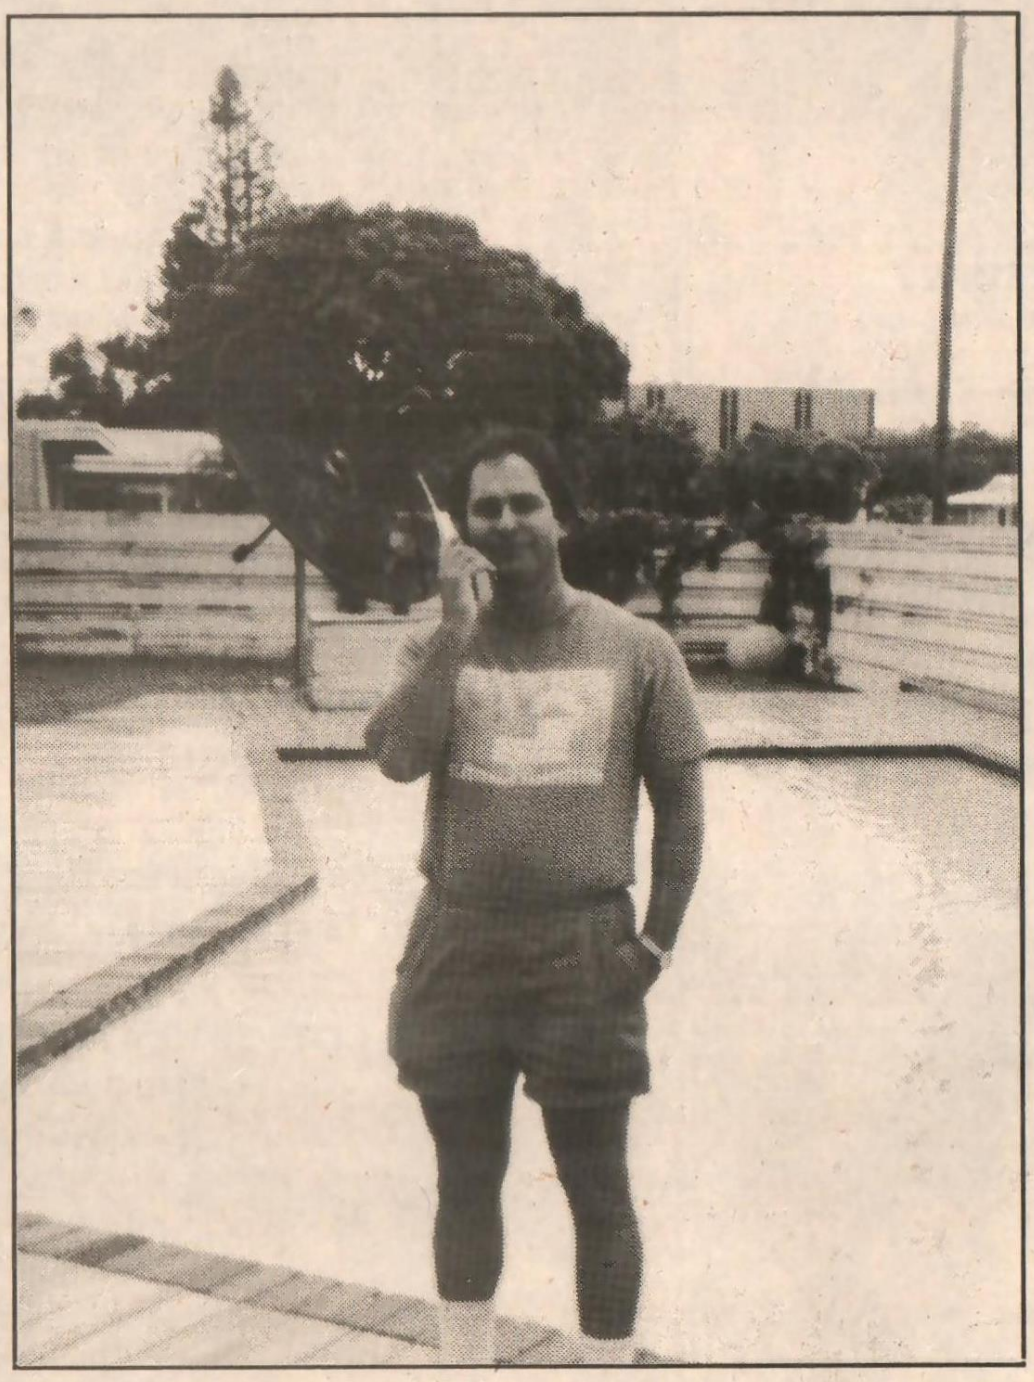
AGENT FEATURE

Lowell Smith

OF WIDE WORLD

"I discovered four years ago that my niche in this business was going to be to be the agency of choice for the top X-rated video stars"
–Lowell Smith, owner of Wide World Entertainment.



Wide World currently books many of the top names in X-rated video on the dance circuit. Among its 30-35 clients are Vanessa del Rio, Angela Baron, Barbara Dare, Victoria Paris, Ashlyn Gere, Bunny Bleu, Taylor Wane and Stephanie Rage. In addition, Lowell's Ft. Lauderdale, Florida agency also books approximately 30 house dancers. Says Lowell, "We book girls from all over the country, although most of them are from the Florida area, into clubs up and down the east coast and Toronto. They go for one to two weeks at a time and the girls pay us a commission." According to Lowell, Wide World is unique because many major agencies don't have much dealings with house dancers.

Lowell feels that house dancers are important to the industry, saying, "The biggest asset that any club can have are their day-to-day girls. No matter what kind of features you put in there, their regular clientele is going to come or not come because of the quality or lack of quality of their regular day-to-day girls. And that is how a club is built. That's the concept of the Doll Houses of America and Pure Platinum. They've had the best day-to-day girls of any clubs in the country and that's why they're so successful."

In fact, earlier this year Wide World joined forces with Michael J. Peter Club Management and Beverly Hills Talent to book big name features into the chain of 23 clubs (Doll House, Pure Platinum, Solid Gold, etc.) throughout the U.S. This arrangement guarantees a high quality working environment for Wide World's clients and offers Michael Peter clubs first choice at booking some of the biggest drawing entertainers in the business.

by Duncan Dexter

Fourteen years ago, Lowell Smith began in the adult entertainment business as an assistant manager at Show World in New York City, which at that time presented live sex shows. He recalls, "There were times when they (the management) would say, "We don't need you tonight as a theatre manager, but if you would work on stage as an actor, then we could use you". He continues, "I was young and enterprising and quite honestly, it comes under the category of it ain't a bad way to earn a living." However, "By and large, mostly everything I did was actually in the form, you can almost call it, of erotic theatre." The sex was simulated and there were skits and rehearsals. Later on he did do the occasional hard-core show. "My key to success, if you would call it that, was that I didn't think about what I was doing while I was doing it. I never really seemed to have a problem whatsoever performing under any circumstances. I guess I'm just able to center my concentration."

Looking back on it, "The whole concept to me of having sex with a stranger in front of strangers so that other people can be gratified in some way by watching it, is a little bit weird. Maybe I'm still an old-fashioned conservative despite the business I'm in, but to me it doesn't seem like something that comes natural to every man and woman." Later, Lowell performed in five X-rated movies, most with his fiance, Bunny Bleu. Certainly this experience has given him some insight into dealing with X-rated video stars and added a dimension to his character."

Lowell eventually started up Wide World in 1985. He had been working at Show World for three years. "I grew tired of the increasing political situation with the job and the way the pay always fluctuated and I guess probably just working for somebody in general, as opposed to being my own boss."

He continued, "And I decided that I was going to quit and I had to figure out something that I was going to do to make money. I had dealt with stars who came into Show World from the management side, being the person that made sure they got their check on Saturday night and things like that."

"It was difficult getting clients at first "because nobody knew who I was and I didn't really know how to go about contacting people and saying I was an agent. A few people who I knew from the past from my Show World days like Tish Ambrose, who at one time was a fairly well-known porno star, did make contact with me and decided to try to take some bookings from me. That helped me along a little bit."

In those early days Smith had no definite direction in which to take his agency and remembers, "I needed whoever I could get (as a client)." However, he soon gravitated towards being an X-rated video star agency. He explains, "The main break happened when I met Bunny Bleu. We hit it off on a personal level and I started booking her and I think that she brought a tremendous amount of credibility to my agency because she was one of the better known, and still is, X-rated video stars." He continued, "Also, she knew a lot of people in the business."

Originally, Lowell had planned to book only House dancers, but "the talent there (in New York) is extremely lacking. If you take a look at a club like Stringfellows or Pure Platinum, they've got up to 60 girls a night and you'd be hard pressed to find one from New York." Last year, Wide World relocated from New York to Florida. So, he concentrated on booking features in the beginning and it has paid off, "The opportunities are greater and greater simply because the feature business is growing at an unbelievable pace. Years ago Michael Peter, before I knew him, told me he'd never use a feature in a million years because he didn't need one. That was the attitude of a lot of clubs, especially in Texas, that considered themselves to be real cabaret type clubs with beautiful girls that worked for free. But one by one everyone of them, it seems, is coming to the realization that sooner or later they're going to have to try a feature."

Years ago Michael Peter, before I knew him, told me he'd never use a feature in a million years because he didn't need one. That was the attitude of a lot of clubs, especially in Texas, that considered themselves to be real cabaret type clubs with beautiful girls that worked for free. But one by one everyone of them, it seems, is coming to the realization that sooner or later they're going to have to try a feature."

Lowell plans to expand Wide World into more cities within the year and looks to become a major agency conglomerate in the business. He hopes, "Maybe in the same sense in the agency business as Michael Peter has become in the club business." He still intends to center on X-rated video stars because they command the most money and the most attention. The house dancer area will expand as well. He hopes to one day supervise an operation with a roster of 1000 dancers (house and features).

Lowell feels he possesses all the necessary qualities to be successful. He loves telephone work. He doesn't mind long hours. He works out of his home (although he has a separate office for his three employees). He tries to be as fair as possible and honorable. "It's not what you do that's honorable, it's how you do it." He has a mind for details, is organized, precise and works hard at getting a fair deal for his client and the club. He makes sure the terms of the contract are upheld - for example, he insists that the accommodations for his clients are good (Holiday Inn or equivalent).

Lowell gets involved with a club advising it on how to advertise a client and how to schedule shows. He works with the house dancers that he books ensuring that they act professionally, make their planes and travel connections, are punctual and "project a pleasant and agreeable attitude." With features he insists that they continually strive to maintain the best possible appearance at all times, constantly improve their costumes and presentation on stage, keep updated, good-looking photos for promotion and have available the newest box cover slicks.

The most satisfaction Lowell derives from his job (besides a check arriving in the mail), is booking somebody at the right price at the right club. The most unpleasant aspect of his work is getting calls from acts he can't work with or from clubs he doesn't want to work with. ★★★★

Miss Topless 1992

By Duncan Dexter • Photos by Fitzroy Barrett & Dom Acerra

Twenty four dancers from across the U.S. and Canada competed for $25,000 in cash and prizes in the Grand Ballroom of The Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas. Californian Catalina won first prize and took home $15,000.

On July 28 and 29 the finals of the Miss Topless 1992 competition took place at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada. Twenty-four of the finest dancers from all over the United States and Canada vied for $25,000 in cash. These two evenings were the culmination of nine months of competition in clubs and various regions across North America.

The glittering 1500-seat Grand Ballroom of the Sahara Hotel was the scene where two dozen performers hit the stage. Said organizer Bill Haigh, "How many times are you going to see this many girls, of this caliber, in a club? Basically, we got the best performance out of these girls."

The dancers were: Lola from San Diego, Parrish from Sammy's in Birmingham, Morgan representing the Olympic Garden in Las Vegas, Lucky from Baby "O" in San Antonio, Lauren Masters from Albuquerque, Desirae from Sammy's in Pensacola, Marilyn Star - Miss Nude Vancouver, Fierra from San Diego, Roq Lacross representing the Country Palace in Kalamazoo, LaDonna of Caddy's in Scarborough, Ontario, Dusti Miller of Heart Breakers in Michigan, Tonya Teaze from Grand Rapids, Candee Apples from Land of Mint and Honey in E. Debuque, Tanya Sessoms from Boca Raton, Angel from the Olympic Garden in Las Vegas, Rebecca Bardoux, Virginia from Baby "O" in Houston, Kathlene Stone from North Holywood, Candace from Sammy's in Fort Walton, Heather Foxx from Denver, Catalina from Morro Bay, California, Bobbi Brown from Hawthorne, California, Vallerie - Miss Topless Delaware Valley and Crystan Finton of the Country Palace in Kalamazoo.

There were so many top notch contestants the judging was almost impossible. After two days of intense competition the 30 judges were able to narrow the contestants down to six: Marilyn Star, Candee Apples, Morgan, Bobbi Brown, Fierra and Catalina. Each finalist pulled out all the stops doing a high-energy four-minute routine. As Bill Haigh notes, "The girls had only one moment in time, so they made the best of it." The excitement level of the girls was tremendous, because as bill added, they were trying to grab 15 grand." First prize was $15,000 in cash.

Sixth place and $1,000 went to Marilyn Star who did a routine in a space suit with a multitude of lights. Fifth place finisher Candee Apples was stunning in an elaborate winged costume and also received $1,000. Morgan's Roaring '20's show, complete with pin stripe suit, earned her fourth prize and $1,000. Fierra danced her way into third place and $3,000 while runner-up Bobbi Brown used her acrobatic ability to capture $4,000.

Winner Catalina did a wild show, ripping off layers of studded leather while cracking a whip. The audience responded enthusiastically to the show. Catalina was thrilled to win, saying, "It felt wonderful and certainly took a load off my nerves. The competition was steep and I just took it one night at a time. There were a lot of beautiful girls, great costumes and wonderful dancers as well." She added, "It was my first contest so it was very new to me. I loved the huge stage, big "Vegas-style" room and all of the lights and cameras. The crowd was loud too, thank goodness!"

Catalina's manager, Damon Younger was elated and proud because, as he put it, "Being Miss Topless will give her more notoriety in the feature dancing market." Catalina has only been featuring for two years. She's been dancing for six years. He felt her thousands of short shows at bachelor parties and surprise parties ideally prepared her for the four-minute format of the Miss Topless 1992 Competition.

Judging of the event was based on beauty, body, dancing ability and stage show. Only 10 points, out of a possible 280, separated the top 10 finishers. The M.C. was entertainer Lou De Mies who did a great job getting the audience involved, introducing the competitors and interviewing them after their shows - all the while incorporating humor into the proceedings.

The entire event was captured on video tape by Bill Haigh and his partner Schotzy Diorio at Wolfe Video Productions. The seven-year-old company based in Somerdale, New Jersey, has sold the video to two pay-per-view cable TV companies so far, with five or six more systems to follow, if all goes well. The importance of video was emphasized by Catalina, "The video will bring my act more attention." Commenting on her competitors, Catalina emphasized "there was absolutely no tension or bitchiness backstage. We all had fun and wished each other the best. I'm looking forward to contest number two!"

Summing up the event, organizer Bill Haigh said, "I hope we can do a bigger and better show next year. We're looking for more participation from clubs across the United States and Canada. So, all you club owners out there, get your girls to compete in a preliminary and send the win- ➤ ners on to Vegas to compete." He also pointed out that "the clubs that participated (in this year's contest) made money. I'd like to have this as an on-going thing." And all indications are that it will because the Sahara Hotel has pledged to give its complete support for next year's extravaganza and hopes to make it a successful annual event. ★★★★

COVERGIRL FEATURE

HEATHER HUNTER

By Duncan Dexter

While several X-rated actresses have now successfully crossed over into mainstream movie-making, X-rated superstar and exotic dancer Heather Hunter is charting new territory as she's ready to release her first single and break big into the mainstream dance and pop music scene. Since she's bound to soon be a huge star, we thought we would better interview her now while we still have the chance!

Heather Hunter is a triple threat. She exclaims, "Dancing and music and love is my life!" She dances. She sings. She makes love on camera. Actually the latter (X-rated acting) is a thing of the past. Heather starred in some 16 videos over a period of two years in Los Angeles and New York. Among the titles are: Torch, Heather's Home Movies, Heather Haunted and Coming On America.

These days, Ms. Hunter is concentragting on singing and dancing. She considers herself, "A valuable entertainer," loves to entertain, laugh and make others laugh. She feels she's a bit of a stand-up comic.

Heather Hunter has been stripping for four years, but is presently launching a mainstream singing career. Her single, Is It Love?, which she co-wrote, is scheduled to be released by Christmas. The up-tempo song is geared towards airplay on dance and pop music radio stations. She explains that the theme of the song is, "Does he love me or does he just want to have sex?"

Heather has recorded eight more songs, most of which she wrote or co-wrote. Producing the single and upcoming album is Smack Productions of New Jersey - which specializes in house music and rhythm and blues. If the single takes off, an album will be released soon afterwards. To chat about her transition from porno star to mainstream singer, Heather has appeared on numerous TV talk shows including W.W.F. Bobby Henan Show, Black Entertainment Television, Joan London (following the Today Show on NBC), Nine Broadcast Plaza and the Howard Stern Show. To keep her acting chops keen, she played a hooker in the R-rated, comedy-horror, feature film - Frankenhooker - which ran in theatres and on HBO, among other places.

Music has always played an important part in the life of this New York area native. She was born in the Bronx, raised in Brooklyn and now resides in Manhattan. She was always a singer and dancer. She attended ballet school fo three years. She states, "It (music) makes me feel wonderful. It's a wonderful escape from reality and at the same time, it is reality." She enjoys all aspects of music - both singing and listening to it. She adds, "I could be mad at someone and a certain tune comes on and I'll send them roses." Artists she particularly favors are Prince and Luther Vandross. Her goals in the music business are lofty. She hopes "to be the best musical entertainer there's ever been. I just love to express myself." She also hopes to "open doors for other women in the X-rated industry." Among the big clubs she's sung in are the Palladium and Tattoo.

Heather got her big break two years ago. She had just returned to New York from Los Angeles where she'd spent a summer dancing on the TV show Soul Train. She gave a party at a prominent Manhattan night club where she sang and danced. An A&R man from a major record label happened to be there and was so impressed with her talent that he signed her to a recording contract. The future for her is bright in the music world, if her dancing career is any indication.

Sex is also important to Ms. Hunter. At 14 years of age she wanted to be a Playboy bunny, but by the time she came of age (18), all the Playboy clubs had closed down. However, to her "This (stripping) is the next best thing." Although her childhood was normal and loving, she craved independence, so at 16 years of age she left home and lived on her own. She remembers, "I couldn't deal with my mother's rules. At 16 I went out into the real world." She maintained family contact by working in her father's candy store. But when she became 18, her career took a dramatic change, all of a sudden. She said, "When I hit 18, I went to Connecticut and worked in a strip club." Stripping came easily because of her dancing background. It was a somewhat spur-of-the-moment decision, "I just did it. I'm a spontaneous girl. I just jumped on a bus to Connecticut." Although her friends couldn't believe her career move, she felt, "I just followed my path. It just happened."

Her first time on a strip club stage was a memorable experience, "I just got on stage and took my top off. My tits were pretty big and they (the people in the audience) enjoyed my performance. At the same time, I enjoyed myself and kept doing it." Her parents have accepted their daughter's lifestyle. She points out, "I was always curious about my sexuality, so they (her parents) weren't shocked. But it took a long time for them to understand, but now they are supportive. They unconditionally love me."

To Heather, singing and dancing are closely related. She plans to incorporate both elements into her shows. She appreciates being on stage and bringing happiness to people, "I like to make a person smile in an entertaining way, I do it in my dancing." She adds, "My personality is pretty friendly." Ms. Hunter does high energy routines (four to five shows per day) from a simple Indian girl to a glamorous Marilyn Monroe to a dominatrix to a latin-Mexican-salsa senorita.

Her 15 costumes are imaginative (in her cowboy outfit she ropes an audience member and uses a six-gun which shoots bubbles instead of bullets). "I make the costumes and I make the costumes exciting."

Heather likes traveling throughout the United States and Canada. She enthuses, "I love experiences. I'm always game for them." Performing brings out another side of this attractive entertainer. She considers herself generous, kind of shy and timid, but she observes, "When I perform, I become energetic and I have a lot of fun. I'm always looking to gain more wisdom."

Even though she is a young woman, she notes, "As I become older, I'm learning to look before I leap." She is very serious, professional and responsible towards her dancing career emphasizing, "Regardless of what is happening in my personal life I always give my best performance." She has a unique rapport and attitude towards audiences, "When I'm dancing, I try to put people in a hypnotic type of vibe. It's all in the way you move and look them in the eye. I try to keep audiences focused with my body language. And it works."

Heather's distinctive dancing style and manner appeals both to women and men. She claims to draw a particularly high proportion of couples. Women aren't intimidated by her. In fact, women often approach her after a show and talk with her.

As if the singing and dancing weren't enough, this ambitious woman is developing an X-rated comic strip and comic book concerning the adventures of X-teens - the Sex Caped Crusaders.

Certainly Heather Hunter has a strong will and a desire to succeed. Her philosophy is, "If I'm knocked down, I get up and try all over again. And if that doesn't work, I go to plan B."

The last words go to her manager, Dave Copeland, who says, "Her future is very bright. The response from the other side (as far as crossing over is concerned) has been welcoming. We look forward to great success." ★★★★★

What you need to become an agent:
1) An eye for Detail:
she's had her tits done... no, wait... ah, yeah, she has... then again,...
2) A strong digit finger:
3.
↑ A handy little cellular phone so you don't have to leave your 90,000 porche. (Agents' commission)
4) An excellent memory for geography:
Lets see... I can start her off in P.G., then send her to Winnipeg... back to Nanaimo, and, oh... great!... they'll love to have her in Ft. St. John!!
A creative promoting sense:
George, listen... I know she aint much; but put her in as the 'watermelon Queen', or 'pig woman'... she'll do fine!!
6) An ability to sit on your ass all day and stare at promo shots of naked girls whilst talking to bar managers on the phone and calculating how much you'll Gross this year.

YESTERDAY'S EROTICA:
DANCERS AND GYPSIES

Wanderlust is practically a requirement for a dancer. Any which way you look at it, being on the road is something you better either love or simply get used to. Dancers are much like modern day Gypsies who travel the world.

Long ago, it was the Gypsies who first brought exotic dance from the Middle East and India to Europe, according to John B. McLaughlin in his book Gypsy Lifestyles. What is truly fascinating is that in ancient times, Indian priestesses would dance with snakes. Also, some of the oldest statuettes ever discovered were of dancing women found in countries as far apart as India and Spain. How curious that many Gypsies now reside in Spain!

Scholars have learned that the name Gypsies call themselves, Rom, comes from the Sanskrit word Dom. Literally translated, Dom means "a man of low caste who gains his livelihood by singing and dancing," (Sampson 1923:158) according to the book Familiar Strangers by Marlene Sway. The first Dom to leave India were sent to Persia at the close of the ninth century. Linguistic evidence indicates that after one hundred years as the "entertainers of the Persian peasantry," the Dom separated into two groups and began nomadic life in the tenth century (Sampson 1923:164). For purposes of clarity, Sampson has distinguished these two groups as the Ben Gypsies, who travelled south, and the Phen Gypsies, who travelled northward into Armenia. The Ben Gypsies wandered into Syria, Palestine, and Egypt and spread through the Middle East and North Africa.

Dancers are their own subculture. There are entire groups of people who frown on them for their profession even while reaping the profits of a multi-million dollar industry. Luckily, dancers have the attitude that says, "Who are you to comment?" Gypsies are the same way. They have their own subculture also and their defiance is more defined. Illiteracy is a deliberate act that says, "We don't need your words, your ways, your ideas. We can get along without you!" Both dancers and Gypsies have encountered hostility and discrimination. Is it any wonder that both groups choose to ignore the social customs of the general public? Dancers and true Gypsies have much in common.

Dancers of today are obliged to travel. It's the only way to remain "fresh". Any agent or manager will notice when a dancer overstays her welcome. Like the Gypsies of old, migration is a necessity based on the whims of others. Deportation of European Gypsies to the New World seems to have been common. Evidence suggests that England also deported Gypsies to Barbados. Additionally, Trigg reports that Gypsies were sent to Australia. Similarly, France found the New World a valuable dumping ground for unwanted Gypsies. Likewise, Spain and Portugal deported their unwanted Gypsies below the equator. After the United States passed restrictive immigration legislation in 1924 Eastern European Gypsies began emigrating to Mexico, Central and South America, and, to a lesser extent, to countries in the Caribbean basin.

During medieval times, the Jews and Gypsies were accused of bringing the bubonic plague to Europe. They were often forced to live outside of towns, and, as a consequence, Gypsy ghettos were usually next to Jewish ghettos. In Spain, the two groups were forcibly settled together. In the years proceeding the Inquisition, which was directed toward the Gypsies with as much venom as it was against the Jews, the two groups exchanged talents and cultures. The most illustrious product of their shared endeavors was flamenco music.

During their twelve hundred year sojourn from India, the Gypsies have endured as landless travellers throughout the world, subjected to dominant group hostility and violence. Moving from territory to territory, either by desire or force, approximately eighteen million Gypsies have survived as citizens of the world, living in forty different countries.

Although dancers have a subculture it is different from that of Gypsies. Dancers do not have a "code" of behavior that is consistent. Gypsies take care of their own and have very strict beliefs. They are well known as dancers, musicians, scoundrels, horsetraders, fortune tellers, metalworkers, and circus performers who work with trained bears. They unreservedly dislike foreigners which is anyone who's not a Gypsy.

Their love of music is incomparable. Gypsies are famous for their compositions. It is very likely, although unprovable at this instant, that they influenced the creation of that dance known as the Lambada. There is rumor of a wicked dance called the Tanana from Spain. Further investigation may confirm this connection.

Are you a Gypsy at heart? You might be. But remember that Gypsies are not liberated, where dancers are. Perhaps one day dancers will have a "code of ethics" comparable to the Gypsies. In the meantime there is still that endless stretch of road beckoning and the thrill of mystery and money to lure those stricken with wanderlust. ★★★

Dancers are their own subculture. There are entire groups of people who frown on them for their profession even while reaping the profits of a multi-million dollar industry. Luckily, dancers have the attitude that says, "Who are you to comment?" Gypsies are the same way.

The Boobie Bungalow

IN ELKTON, TENNESSEE

"We're known in this part of the country as the home of the big busted girls", says Alvin Russell, owner of the aptly-named Boobie Bungalow in Elkton, Tennessee. The town is located in the southern part of the state, just six miles from the Alabama border and 30 miles from Huntsville, Alabama. Elkton has a population of only 400, but the club draws customers from all over the U.S.

States Alvin, "The biggest busted girls eventually work here." Acts who've appeared include Bunny Jo Tyler, Melissa Mounds, Toppsy Curvey, Traci Topps, Europe Dichan, Lulu Devine, Busty Hart, Rocki Mountains, Marilyn Mellons, Suzie Boobies, Alysa Alps, Crystal Storm, Chesty Love and Bunny Glamazon. Most of the big busted features "break records for making the most money", according to Alvin, meaning they make more money at his club than at any other.

The one-story, brown brick building is situated on Interstate 65, Bryson Rd., exit 6, beside a truck stop. The interior is laid back, casual, with a country, come-as-you-are, feel to it. The main room is rectangular with birch wood panelled walls, chandeliers, a kitchen at one end and a 35 foot, horseshoe-shaped bar in the middle. At the south end of the room is a spacious, completely mirrored, 30 ft. X 18 ft. stage with eight foot runway. Thirty seats surround the stage. The lighting system is modern with lasers, pro beams, super light flowers and special effects. It is accompanied by an excellent sound system giving good, clean sound. The D.J. booth is positioned 100 feet from the stage and it is from here that the 1000 watt spotlight originates.

Each night from 10-12 house dancers perform. The average stay for a dancer is several months and some girls travel all the way from Nashville (75 miles to the north) to work at the club. The girls table dance for $10 per dance but leave their G-strings on. Dancers must be over 18 years of age, be attractive and ambitious, but not necessarily large breasted. House girls have their own private dressing room with lockers, tanning bed, showers and make-up tables. Feature performers have their own private dressing room. The club offers furnished apartments for out of town dancers.

Dancers like the cozy, friendly atmosphere of the club. Extoling its virtues is Tyler, who's been dancing eight months, all of them at the Bungalow. She feels, "Where can you find a work place where you get paid and have fun at the same time?" She continued, "Everybody's like a good old family here. Everybody gets along with everybody. Also, every day is different. You never get bored."

Alvin Russell is a master at promoting his place. He's not adverse to spending $10,000 - $12,000 on radio ads. He once had Melissa Mounds parachute out of an airplane. This stunt attracted a lot of attention from the local media, even leading to her appearing on radio talk shows. The Boo'bie Bungalow also hosts amateur dance contests from time to time. However, the most unique promotions are geared towards truck drivers. Truckers with commercial drivers licenses are admitted to the club without having to pay the cover charge (two dollars on regular nights and five dollars when certain big busted feature dancers appear). this clientele also receives free beers every Tuesday and Wednesday night between 6 - 8 p.m. and complimentary coffees all the time.

In spite of its proximity to the truck stop, the Boobie Bungalow draws a varied clientele - from red necks to truckers to high tech men in $500 suits. Alvin claims the people are well-behaved, "I haven't had a fight here, since I don't know when." The uniformed security contributes to a trouble-free atmosphere.

Alvin has been in the night club business for 20 years and even owned a country bar for five years before opening the Boobie Bungalow 15 years ago. He maintains that there is more money to be made in the strip club business. He is proud of the unpretentiousness of his establishment saying, "What you see when you come in is what you get."

Parking is available in three large lots - one for cars and two for semi's. The Boobie Bungalow is open from 6 p.m. - 2 a.m. Monday to Saturday.

COMMON CLUB COMPLAINTS ABOUT BOOKING AGENCIES:

BARBARA DARE
Star of 200 XXX Movies
All Major Magazines Including the Cover of Hustler
Winner-Best Actress in an Erotic Film

1. Agency ads which offer acts that are either available through most other agencies, or, are not available at all from the agency advertising them.

2. Agencies who claim that a club does not have to "front" airfare for their features, only to discover that the customer must pay a commission to these agencies of 25 - 50% of the booking price for this "service."

3. Agencies who boast about a toll-free number, when you would prefer fair prices for marketable acts.

4. Agencies who claim they book every act under the sun, only to pull the old "bait and switch" routine when their bluff is called.

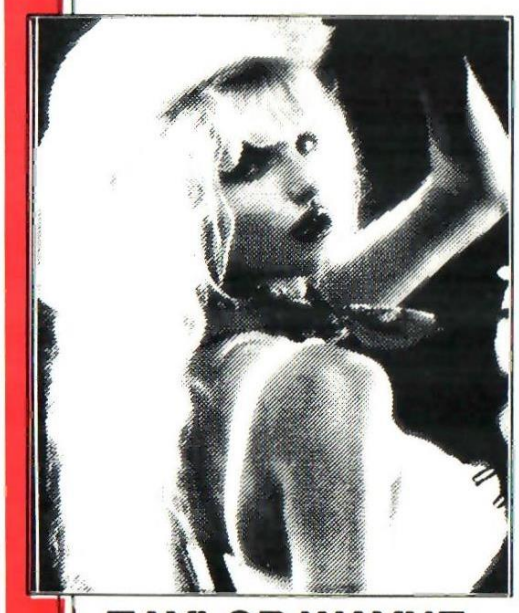
2 Time Consecutive Winner AVA'S
Starlet Of The Year Award
As Seen in Penthouse &
Hustler, etc.
Vivid Video Superstar

WIDE WORLD ENTERTAINMENT eliminates these complaints, and offers in their place:



TAYLOR WAYNE
48DD • XXX Video Star

1. The most marketable, truly exclusive acts in our business.

2. Guaranteed performance of the highest professional standards by our agency, as well as our carefully screened performers.

3. Acts available for 12-24 shows per week; stop paying for shows that are not making you money!

4. The most heavily promoted acts anywhere; they are pre-sold to your customer with many thousands of XXX dollars in video company advertising.

5. The absolute lowest prices on travel available at time of booking agreement. We make your life easy. Every booking is a winner!
